

Fiber Optic Cable Repair Company

Summary of Content

Professional fiber optic cable repair services are available through specialized contractors such as DCS, Streamline Telecom, ReliCable, and FIS Blue, offering splicing, testing, and full cable repair solutions.

Key Service Providers

DCS offers fiber optic cable repair and installation services in New York and New Jersey. Their team consists of BICSI RCDD certified engineers skilled in design-build installation, fusion splicing, and network testing. They provide emergency repair services for businesses and organizations, ensuring rapid response and professional handling of damaged fiber networks . Streamline Telecom specializes in fiber-optic splicing and repair in New York City. They provide both mechanical splicing for quick repairs and fusion splicing for long-lasting connections. Their technicians are trained to handle single-mode and multi-mode fibers, using specialized testing equipment to ensure network reliability . ReliCable is a Brooklyn-based contractor focusing on expert fiber optic splicing. They provide professional repair services for various fiber types, ensuring minimal downtime and high-quality connections . FIS Blue offers a repair service for fiber optic cable assemblies, including SMPTE, TFOCA-II, and Expanded Beam types. Customers can ship their damaged cables for evaluation, repair, and testing, which can be more cost-effective than full replacement. Their service ensures that repaired cables meet performance standards .

Repair Methods

- Mechanical Splicing: Quick, temporary repair suitable for both single-mode and multi-mode fibers.
