

Galvanized Cable Trays in the UK

Summary of Content

Select galvanized cable trays based on environment, load capacity, duty rating, and compliance with UK and international standards to ensure durability and safety.

Key Considerations

1. Material and Galvanization Type

- Pre-Galvanized (PG) Steel: Suitable for dry, indoor environments such as offices or clean factories. The zinc coating is thinner (12-20 microns) and provides basic corrosion protection .
 - Hot-Dip Galvanized (HDG) Steel: Recommended for outdoor, humid, or corrosive environments, including coastal areas or chemical facilities. The thick zinc coating (65-85 microns) protects against rust for 20+ years .
- #### 2. Duty Rating and Load Capacity

- Light Duty: For small cables, data, or light power circuits in commercial spaces .
 - Medium Duty: For mixed power and data cabling in schools, offices, or healthcare facilities .
 - Heavy Duty: For industrial projects, large cable bundles, or long-span installations. Ladder trays are often used for heavy-duty applications .
 - Ensure the tray can support the cable weight without excessive deflection. Calculate load based on support span; doubling the bracket spacing reduces load capacity to ~25% .
- #### 3. Tray Type
- Ladder Trays: Strong, ideal for heavy power cables and long spans .
