Summary of Content

You can purchase industrial PLCs and switches directly from distributors like PLC Direct and PLC-City, which offer products from top brands with fast delivery and technical support.

Direct Sales Distributors

PLC Direct is a US-based distributor offering PLCs from leading manufacturers such as ABB, Omron, Siemens, Schneider, and SICK. They focus on short lead times, in-stock availability, and worldwide delivery, making them a reliable source for industrial automation components . Their service includes customer support, fast shipping, and a refund policy if products do not meet expectations. PLC-City, part of DIELLE Industrial Automation in Italy, provides a global direct sales network with over 170,000 products in stock. They offer technical services, programming, commissioning, and multilingual support, ensuring that customers receive both the hardware and professional assistance needed for industrial automation projects . IndustryStock lists over 338 PLC manufacturers and suppliers worldwide, including companies from Germany, China, USA, Netherlands, Austria, Switzerland, Italy, India, Poland, Estonia, and Romania. This platform allows you to contact manufacturers directly for spare parts, servicing, maintenance, and accessories .

Key Considerations for Direct Purchase

- Brand Selection: Choose from top PLC brands like Siemens, Rockwell Automation, Schneider, Omron, and Advantech for reliability and compatibility .
