

Panama electrical distribution box price quote

Summary of Content

A Panama brand electrical distribution box typically ranges from $150 to $2,000 or more, depending on size, amperage, materials, and features.

Price Overview

The cost of a distribution box varies widely based on specifications and intended use. Basic residential units with 100-200 amp service and standard indoor enclosures generally cost between $150 and $700 for the unit alone, while installation can add $400-$1,500 depending on labor complexity and local rates . Commercial or industrial-grade boxes with higher amperage, outdoor weatherproofing, or stainless steel construction can range from $1,000 to $2,000 or more, especially if equipped with advanced breakers, surge protection, or smart monitoring features .

Factors Affecting Cost

- Amperage and number of circuits: Higher capacity panels cost more due to larger busbars and additional breakers .
- Material and enclosure type: Plastic enclosures are cheaper, while powder-coated steel or stainless steel units are more durable and expensive .
- Internal components: Boxes sold empty are less expensive; adding high-quality breakers, surge protectors, or smart devices increases the price .
- Installation and labor: Professional installation can range from $50-$150 per hour, with complex setups or retrofits adding 15-20% to the total cost .
