

Price of small round distribution boxes

Summary of Content

Small round distribution boxes typically range from £2 to £10 per unit, depending on size, material, and supplier.

Overview

Small round distribution boxes are commonly used in warehousing, retail, and logistics for storing and transporting goods efficiently. They are often made from plastic, corrugated cardboard, or recycled materials and may feature stackable or nestable designs for space-saving storage. The price varies based on volume capacity, durability, and additional features such as ventilation or lids.

Typical Pricing

- Plastic small round crates: £3-£8 per unit for sizes around 15-20 litres, suitable for food, retail, or light industrial use.
- Corrugated cardboard round boxes: £2-£5 per unit, ideal for shipping or temporary storage.
- Premium or lidded versions: £6-£10 per unit, offering extra durability, stackability, or security features.

Suppliers

- Onit Direct: Offers small bale arm crates starting from 15 litres, stackable and nestable, commonly used in food and retail industries.
- Rapid Racking: Provides high-quality warehouse containers and lidded tote boxes suitable for distribution, with fast delivery options.
