

South Sudan Fiber Optic Fusion Splicer Manufacturer

Summary of Content

UZALENDO, Fujikura (via AFL), Shinho, and Sumitomo Electric Lightwave are key suppliers of fiber optic fusion splicers serving South Sudan and Central Africa.

Key Suppliers and Manufacturers

1. UZALENDO UZALENDO is a leading provider of fiber optic communication solutions in Central Africa, including South Sudan. They supply Fujikura fusion splicers, fiber optic cables, fiber blowing machines, and related test equipment. UZALENDO emphasizes long-term customer support, training, and innovative services for FTTx and other fiber network installations . 2. Fujikura (via AFL) Fujikura is a global leader in fusion splicing technology, known for pioneering Profile Alignment Splicing (PAS) and ribbon splicers. AFL distributes Fujikura splicers and provides custom engineering, splicer training, and maintenance services. Their products include benchtop, field, and mass fusion splicers suitable for high-precision fiber optic projects . 3. Shinho Shinho, a Chinese manufacturer, offers a wide range of fusion splicers, fiber cleavers, OTDRs, and fiber tools. Their splicers are designed for indoor and outdoor use, capable of operating in extreme temperatures and altitudes. Shinho provides OEM options, technical support, and a 24-month warranty, making them suitable for large-scale FTTx and MAN projects . 4. Sumitomo Electric Lightwave Sumitomo Electric Lightwave provides high-performance fusion splicers and accessories, including innovative MPO Splice-On Connectors. Their splicers are known for fast splicing, dual independent ovens, and high reliability, making them ideal for network expansion projects. They also offer 24/7 technical support .
