Summary of Content

The cost of a T-type cable tray typically ranges from $5 to $50 per piece, depending on material, size, and finish.

Price Range and Factors

T-type cable trays are fittings used to branch or connect cable trays in a T-shaped configuration. Their cost varies based on:

- Material:
- Pre-galvanized steel is the most affordable option, suitable for dry indoor environments.
- Hot-dip galvanized steel (HDG) is more expensive but highly durable for outdoor or industrial use.
- Aluminum is lightweight and corrosion-resistant but costs more than steel.
- Stainless steel is the most expensive, ideal for highly corrosive or hygienic environments .
- Size and Load Capacity: Larger trays or those designed to carry heavy power cables cost more. Standard widths range from 100 mm to 400 mm, and heights from 30 mm to 110 mm .
- Surface Finish: Powder coating or HDG increases durability and price, while pre-galvanized finishes are cheaper .
