

What is a Dubai company

Summary of Content

Dubai is a city and emirate in the UAE, not a company, but Dubai Holding is a major investment company associated with the emirate.

Dubai is the most populous city in the United Arab Emirates and the capital of the Emirate of Dubai, known for its trade, tourism, aviation, financial services, and real estate sectors . It is a global hub with a highly diversified economy, including the Dubai International Financial Centre and Dubai International Airport, which is the world's busiest for international passengers . Dubai Holding is a global investment holding company owned by Dubai's ruler, Sheikh Mohammed bin Rashid al-Maktoum. Established in 2004, it manages a portfolio across real estate, hospitality, entertainment, retail, technology, and finance, with over DH 130 billion in assets and around 20,000 employees worldwide . Dubai Holding has developed major projects such as Madinat Jumeirah, Dubai Studio City, Dubai International Academic City, and the Dubai Design District, supporting Dubai's economic growth and global competitiveness . In addition, Dubai's business environment is supported by authorities like the Dubai Development Authority (DDA), which regulates urban development, master planning, and business licensing to foster economic growth and attract investment . These institutions collectively shape Dubai's economy and provide a structured environment for companies to operate. In summary, Dubai itself is a city and emirate, not a company, but Dubai Holding is the key investment company representing Dubai's global business interests, while authorities like the DDA manage the broader economic and business ecosystem .
