

Where to buy distribution boxes from manufacturers

Summary of Content

You can source distribution boxes directly from manufacturers and wholesalers, including power distribution boxes and corrugated shipping boxes, through platforms like Global Sources, Shorr, and President Container Group.

Electrical and Power Distribution Boxes

For industrial and electrical applications, top manufacturers and suppliers include global leaders such as Schneider Electric, ABB, Siemens, Eaton, and Legrand, which offer a wide range of distribution boxes for residential, commercial, and heavy industrial use . These companies provide advanced technologies, smart modules, and robust global distribution networks. For wholesale purchasing, Global Sources lists over 59 manufacturers offering power distribution boxes with factory-direct pricing, low minimum order quantities, and options for custom OEM/ODM fabrication, including sheet metal cutting, welding, painting, and stainless steel enclosures . This platform allows direct inquiries to suppliers for bulk orders and custom specifications.

Corrugated and Shipping Distribution Boxes

If your need is for shipping, storage, or retail distribution boxes, companies like Shorr and President Container Group provide high-quality corrugated boxes with custom design, printing, and fulfillment services . Shorr offers stock and custom boxes, including bin boxes, trays, partitions, and point-of-purchase displays, with options for in-house printing and just-in-time delivery . President Container Group specializes in end-to-end solutions, from design to automated delivery, suitable for large-scale distribution operations .
